

Think History!

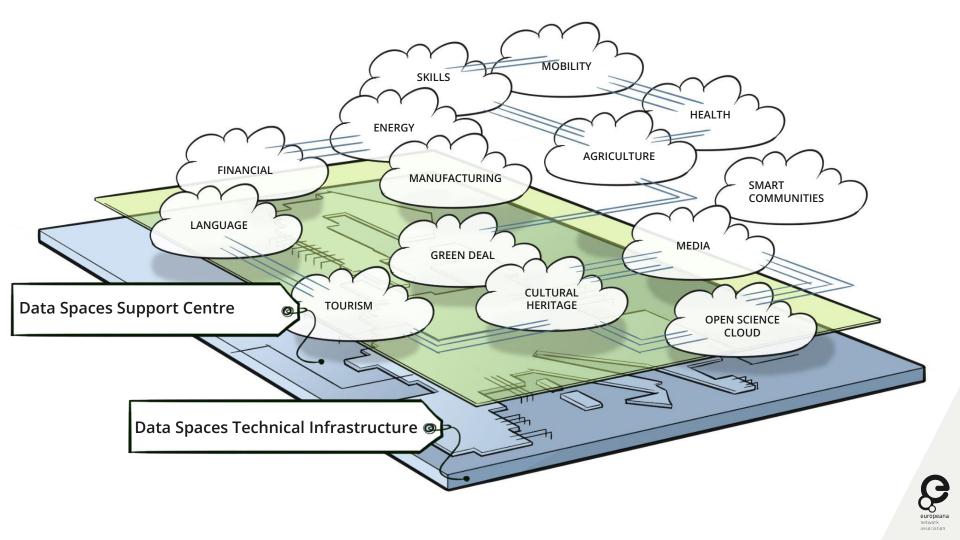

What is ENA about?

- The Europeana Network Association (ENA) is a strong and democratic community of people who work, study or have an interest in digital cultural heritage.
- Represents not only members from the CHI sector, but from adjacent fields (tourism, media, communication, socio-political activism, academia...) as well: a vibrant ecosystem.
- Helps to inspire and implement Europeana's roadmap with a bottom-up approach: co-governance and co-creation.
- □ Allows for different levels and modes of interaction.
- □ Is a place to meet likeminded, exchange knowledge and expertise, get excited about cultural collections and good stories, and use shared passion as a seed for cultural innovation and social cohesion.

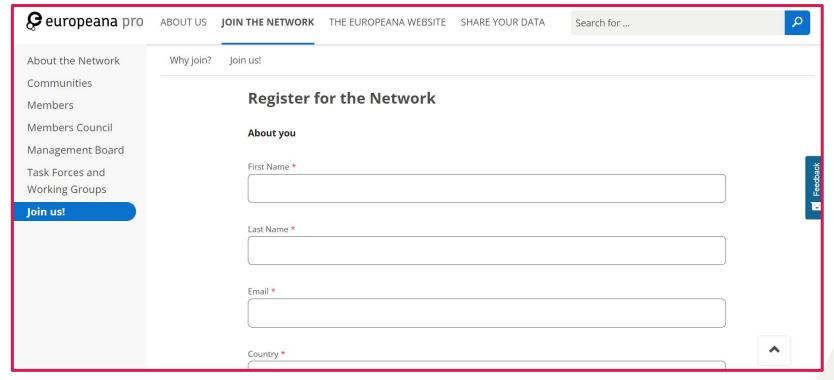

Who can join?

- Anyone with an interest in digital cultural heritage, from a personal or professional point of view.
- Anyone wanting/willing to play an active role in a continuously growing network of equals.
- Anyone who completes the (concise) registration form on pro.europeana.eu

Why we'd love for you to join: realizing the ENA priorities for the Data Space

- 1. Promote close cooperation throughout the data space
- 2. Engage younger and more diverse participation
- 3. Build sectoral capacity to support reuse of high quality data
- 4. Help build a climate-proof data space.

1 - Promote close cooperation throughout the data space

- ENA will become a bottom-up ambassador towards policy makers and professionals at country level, helping make the data space comprehensible and encouraging relevant action.
- Expansion of ENA activities to respond to the needs of a wider set of stakeholders.

2 - Engage younger and more diverse participation in ENA

- Define a strategy to involve young audiences and new professionals
- Involve new audience groups in re-conceptualizing a strong brand, through building awareness and engagement within and beyond ENA

3 - Build capacity to support reuse of high quality data

- Support training for ENA members and the wider community to address gaps in skills and knowledge, encouraging exchange of expertise; peer to peer learning.
- Identify and mine expertise in the network to support data space priorities.
- Encourage digital cultural heritage professionals and audiences to pursue creative roles and activities

4 - Help build a climate-proof data space

- Work through the Climate Action Community to increase the responsiveness and proactivity of Network members in climate change actions
- Analyse opportunities, costs, timings and feasibility of climate mitigation and adaptation actions.
- Support the dissemination of best practices through Councillors, country advocacy groups and the wider membership
